

RODRIGO LEITE

Greetings! I'm Rodrigo Leite, an aspiring Applications Development student with a passion for coding in C++ and Python. Currently enrolled at Lake Michigan College, I'm on the lookout for opportunities to apply my skills and kickstart my journey in the tech world through an internship.

While I'm still navigating my way through various programming avenues, my strong work ethic, punctuality, and dedication are my guiding principles. I thrive on challenges and am always eager to learn and adapt to new technologies.

Beyond the screen, I'm a proactive individual ready to contribute and make a difference. Join me on this exciting journey where every line of code is a step towards growth and innovation.
